MR. SINCLAIR, the old man, tells how Theodore Roosevelt, the Second, assistant Secretary of the Navy, asked him to hire his brother, Archie, and he adds that he tried young Archie I. almost every department of his business, giving him a salary as high as $15,000 a year, "but Archie never made good in anything."

MR. SINCLAIR should know that business is vulgar, and that Roosevelt is not expected to "make good" in such pursuits. Their specialty is showing their teeth in office. Make Archie, or Theodore the Second President, and the story will be different. Business is awkward, because you actually have to deliver something.

WHAT IS MR. SINCLAIR thinking of, when he says, publicly, of young Roosevelt's statements: "I publicly brand (those statements) as false, and malicious, and worse than a lie." Does Mr. Sinclair not know that such remarks addressed to a Roosevelt, even if true, call for blood? The end of all this is not yet, or the real Roosevelt will rest uneasy in his grave.

THE REVEREND DR. FOSDICK says the poem about "Greenland's icy mountains, India's coral sands," etc., is now inaccurate, especially this verse: "How though the spicy breezes blow soft o'er Cayenne's isle, Though every prospect pleases, and only man is vile."

There are more Christians in Cayenne in proportion to numbers, than on Manhattan Island, says Dr. Fosdick, and may need for missionaries in New York than in Cayenne some time ago "Billy Sunday said: 'There are more lepers on Broadway than there were in the Holy Land,' meaning moral lepers."

THE DIFFICULTY is that, while Dr. Fosdick preaches to 1000 at a time, the Christians drift, do not "tie up" to any church. It's a serious problem, and the only advice you can give is "Make religion interesting." Look at the millions that sit up until two in the morning, waiting for the best automobile, waiting for the best suit, waiting for the best food, waiting for the best religion. It should be possible to arouse interest in the eternal broadcasting station that supplies the only important news telling what happens to us later.

THIRTY THOUSAND children in New York have entered a "perfect teeth" contest. The best set of teeth will get the prize. When the 30,000 competing children were fitted down to 500, a majority of them were of Italian birth or parentage. And that need surprise nobody.

ITALIAN MOTHERS feed their children more intelligently than many others. They give them food that needs CHEWING, not soft pap to be swallowed whole. And Italians inherit the teeth of Caesar's soldiers, and carried away, and chewed it as they marched. Their skeletons, dug up today, show perfect teeth.

AMERICAN CHILDREN'S teeth and jaws suffer because their food, soft and sloppy, exerts no chewing force. South-breathing, narrow jaws, teeth crowded that need straightening. All these are due to lack of hard chewing in childhood.

FRENCH PAPERS mock Germans, because their heavy importations of caviar, and such delicacies, actually upset. Continued on Page 2, Col. 5.

WIZARD MRS. HAYES GOES TO COURT THIS WEEK

Trial Based on $25,000 Note
but Far Greater Sum
Involved

New York, March 24.—Myrtle B. Hayes' trial on the name of Charles M. Schwab in large financial deals and her spectacular career in the money world have created an intense interest in her forthcoming trial this week.

Characterized by the authorities "a modern Charles Schwab," the small, mid-aged woman, once a millionaire and later a confident of capital of the money world, has a "startling" story to tell the court.

Mrs. Hayes is charged with forgery in the second degree, which she made the charge in Charles M. Schwab's steel company. They had known each other for more than twenty years. They first met on an ocean liner. It is shown with her that she says she was backed in financial "crises" by Schwab.

HAD TO BE ADMONISHED.

The trial, after one postponement, is on the calendar for today in Criminal Session. Through an inadvertence in signing an order for a bench warrant of 100 talons, the trial will be adjourned until Wednesday. "That it will give rise to some of the most sensational charges is predicted by those who have seen the probable testimony on both sides.

Incident of Mrs. Hayes' trial, she had been involved in a financial man, involving several millions of dollars.

One of them was C. B. Maxwell, founder of one of the world's great oil subsidiaries, and another was a financial man, involving several millions of dollars.

TWO WOMEN IN ONE.

Although she herself had been a woman of a quiet, retiring and unassuming life from a social and a point, Mrs. Hayes is represented as having become quite another personality when putting her wit against the world's most notorious spirit mediums. It is charged, sometimes were used in connection with her large deals.

It was more than a year ago that the career of Mrs. Hayes as a "woman woman" was terminated at least temporarily. For the first time the name of Charles M. Schwab was published in connection with her deals.

Specifically she was indicted in connection with a note for $25,000, which expired on April 1, 1923, when the note was discounted by the "Lawyer" Bank and Marine Company the Schwab Indorsement was questioned.

Aside from the specific charge in the indictment, Mrs. Hayes, it is alleged, forced the indorsement of the steel man to notes aggregating over $225,000. These notes figured in financing the Christmas Hotel at Brookline, Mass.

Mrs. Hayes, interviewed, admitted she had startling allegations to make when she takes the stand in her own defense.

2 MISHAPS TIE UP 'L' SYSTEM

Gate Short-Circuits Third Rail at Everett; Fuse Trouble Causes Delay at Kenmore

Two mishaps on the elevated system today delayed work-bound riders on their way to the center of the city.

At the Everett terminal an iron rail came away from its fastenings and dropped on the main track, stopping the train and delaying the train.

Train over the entire elevated system stopped, where they happened to be at the moment and remained stationary for five minutes, according to the official officials.

Service was resumed, however, at 7:30 after the rail was removed. A couple of hours earlier, a trolley car while on the slope of the subway entrance at Kenmore station, ran a fuse, then another and another as each was substituted in turn.

After five minutes, however, a fuse was persuaded to stay in place and function properly and the cars, and in the case of the subway, started into motion once more.

Ford Tells Why He Wants Bible Back in Public Schools

Henry Ford in an interview in the April number of Good Housekeeping Magazine tells why he is trying to get the Bible back into public schools. Mr. Ford is quoted as saying: "When I was a boy we had a few moments every morning in our school when the teacher read to us from the Bible, and we recited the Ten Commandments and the Lord's Prayer. We needed it, too."

RAPS PUBLIC AS 'GRANDMOTHER' TO PRINCE

British Press Ridicules Plan to Bar Wales From Horseback Riding

London, March 24.—Exhortations addressed to Prince Arthur, Duke of Connaught, to endeavor to persuade the Prince of Wales to be less venturesome on horseback are derided by two prominent Sunday newspapers. The Sunday Times says it is time people ceased trying to play grand-mother to the prince, "although he has too much sense to be disturbed by obnoxiousities that are half lecture and half caress."

The Sunday Express declares that if the premier lecturer he ought to deliver a method whereby Wales could take a more active part in public life.

"We ought to provide him with opportunities for public service more interesting than being foundation stones and making after dinner speeches," it adds.

Colorful Pageant Tonight By Smart Set on Arena Ice, Says Betty Alden

By BETTY ALDEN.

DIRECT from the ice comes the pageant which Smart Set is staging tonight at the arena. Mrs. Oakes Ames has written the pageant, which she calls "Scenes from Old Boston." The various episodes will be enacted on the ice by a group of society's most skillful skaters. The affair abounds with everything picturesque and colorful, from staid Pilgrimage to whirling Maypole dances. Many of Boston's "four hundred" of today will watch their famous ancestors relive the days of old Boston town.

Of the many skaters taking part in tonight's pageant is Mrs. Charles B. Blanchard, who is quite as keen about the ice as in her Theresa Wald days.

To judge by the advance sale of tickets, society will make a brilliant showing at tonight's carnival, which is for the joint benefit of the Family Welfare Society and the United States Figure Skating Association.

EARLY in May Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Atkinson of Brookline are sailing for London, where they will visit their son, Edward Atkinson, who is in business there.

Asopos of the Atkinsons—the latter recently had grandnephews bestowed upon them when a male heir was born to Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Colt (Mary Atkinson).

The little newniece made her appearance last month at the Women's Hospital in New York, Mr. and Mrs. Colt now making their home in Gotham on Grayson Park.

The former Mary Atkinson is greatly missed by her best of Boston friends. She is extremely versatile, speaks French fluently and is an accomplished musician. She wrote "Mabel," the lifting exercise presented by the "Vincent" Club a few years ago.

A PROPOS of the Vincent Club—among those whose loss will be felt in "Wake Up"—this year's Vincent show—is tall and slender Mrs. Richard Saltonstall (Mary Rogers). She will be in the "Debutante Luncheon."

Mrs. Saltonstall is a sister of Mrs. David H. Maynard (Susan Rogers), who recalls the double wedding of the Rogers girls a few years ago in Dedham. T. H. Maynard, former Mayor of Boston, is now in England.

PLEDGE FUND FOR E. END UNION HOME. Prominent Cambridge and East Cambridge citizens are pledged to a movement to raise $40,000 to replace the building of the East End Union, a community settlement house at 161 Spring street, East Cambridge. The house was destroyed by fire three months ago.

At a meeting held at the home of Eliot S. Emerson, president of the Union, plans for raising the building fund were discussed. The drive for the fund will start early in April.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN TO BUY CLUBHOUSE. The Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts discussed plans for financing the proposed purchase of the Robert Jordan house, No. 61 Beacon street, for a permanent clubhouse, at the March luncheon of the organization today at the Copple Plaza. It was announced that a large sum has already been pledged toward the purchase of the house, in which the club plans sleeping rooms, an assembly hall, meeting and dining halls for club members.

RETURN OF ARMS STOLEN IN ERIN IS PROMISED

McGrath Claims Agreements With President Cosgrave Were Broken

Dublin, March 24.—Joseph McGrath, who resigned as Minister of Industry and Commerce, declared today that he "and two or three others" would resign membership in the Dail Eireann tomorrow.

Referring to the recent army crisis, he said the agreements between himself and President Cosgrave by which he undertook to remain in the Cabinet had been broken. He undertakes to secure the return of all stolen arms.

The arrival of a hospital ship is expected at Queenstown tomorrow. No further deaths have been reported and the hunt for the slaves continues. It is stated that military headquarters is fairly certain of the identity of the fugitives, minute descriptions of whom have been issued by the police.

They have been traced as far as Middletown, Conn. City, where it is supposed they escaped to the neighboring hills. It is believed that if they are tracked to their hiding place they will not surrender without a fight.

Two or three thousand men at that is required. Simply enough, the hair will water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, cream lather, cleanses thoroughly, removes dirt easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to manage. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

PIES DEFENDED BY EXPERTS OF BA STATE

Boston Cooking Schools Deny N. H. Claim That They Lack Food Values

Exit the Modernists and Fundamentalists—Another prop threatens to give way beneath us.

"Here's to eating into the vitals of our daily life," says the Rev. Dr. John Stratton Roach, the eminent theologian.

The moral, mental and spiritual integrity of New England's most cherished tradition—a forty-five degree wedge of apple pie—is impugned at one fell swoop.

ON TRIAL FOR LIFE.

Apple pie—king pin of the whole pie family—custards, mince, mock cherry, cranberry, and the whole category are on trial for life.

Without so much as the bat of an eyelash, the New Hampshire State Farm Extension Service at Durham, N. H., consigns the whole pie tribe to withering oblivion.

It's too much trouble. That's the brief finding reached by the commission department of the state, after an all-Winter investigation of the merits and alleged demerits of pie.

"And their food values," observed the investigating committee without a suggestion of up-state twang, "don't justify the labor involved in making them."

Just like that!

"400 HOURS WASTED."

Four thousand hours, the commit-tee members spent during the past year, in turning out flaky, browned crusts filled with steaming fruit, to spouses who might better have been concentrating on "Vitamin A" and "Vitamin B."

Following the securing of such information, the committee announced that a "campaign for better food selection" will be begun at once.

The campaign will not be successful in Massachusetts.

This is the mild prophecy of heads of cooking schools, restaurant managers, and no less a person than Miss Anna M. Bradley, head of the home department of Massachusetts Agricultural College.

FARMER OBSOLETE.

"Pie? Did you say pie?" queried Miss Skinner.

"No, indeed, pies are not obsolete in our curriculum. It is astonishing to find New Hampshire ruling against them. I feel quite sure that New England housewives will soon be right on making pies, nevertheless."

"Pie purely has considerable food value and are an indispensable New England dish. We have no intention of stopping the teaching of pie-making here. We still think the work worth while."

"Apple, raisin, cherry and custard pie, in the order named, are the favorite desserts of Boston's main population, according to local restaurant managers."

"Apple pie and coffee" is an almost staple wind-up to the nonaday lunch, according to the proprietors of chain lunch-rooms and one-armed eating places in the city.

DESIRED COURSE.

"Pastry, and particularly pie-making, is one of the most desired courses at our school," according to Miss Alice Bradley, head of the Farmer School of Cooking.

"Her pies are usually the best test of a good cook. There are many light and more easily-prepared dishes suitable for dessert, but there is no real substitute for pie—well made pie—and until there is well come to hold our pie-making head in the New England desert, at least in Massachusetts."

Which pastimes creep-hungry on the New England desert, at least in Massachusetts.

Greater Boston high schools in their domestic science departments, continue to give pies an honored place in cooking courses, without exception.

BOSTON NOT WORKING.

But Miss L. V. Allen, head of the Boston Cooking School, voices the real question.

"Perhaps they're not making as good pies up in New Hampshire, lately. We're not worrying about the bag, down here, at any rate. It's a good idea to have the girls of the New Hampshire dissenters down here and give them some practical pie."

TWO AMERICANS ARE RAISED TO CARDINALATE

Brilliant Scene at Secret Consistory Held by Pope in Vatican Today

Rome, March 24 (AP).—Mgr. Patrick J. Hayes, archbishop of New York, and Mgr. George W. Mundelein, archbishop of Chicago, were made cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church at a secret consistory held today in the Vatican.

The ceremony, carried out in conformity with confidential ritual, was performed in maximal privacy.

The two American cardinals, raised to the dignity of prince of the church were not present, but awaited notification of their elevation at their respective temporary places of residence.

U. S. OLYMPIC TEAM HAVE STRONG TEAM IN WOMEN'S OLYMPIC NET MEET

MISSILES SURE OF PLACING

By TOM THORP

Speculation is running high as to which stars will be selected to represent America on the first American tour of women's tennis. The tour will travel across the Atlantic to meet the best of the world in the Olympic games.

Miss Helen Wills, the national titleholder, and Miss Lenglen, the world champion, are the favorites to be selected.

Miss Eleanor Goss, the New York girl who has blazed a trail through tennis ranks during the past few seasons, is said to be the choice of the committee for the third member of the team.

Just who the fourth star will be only the future can tell.

Mrs. Marion Zindlerstein Ziegler is being talked about as the one likely to draw the fourth assignment.

Mrs. Lavinia Sturges, rated second in the world, is another player who has a very good chance of getting a place on the American team.

Mrs. Marion Zindlerstein Ziegler is just reaching the top of her form. If she continues to improve, she will likely give her rivals a hard tussle for the fourth place on the team.

Helen Wills is perhaps one of the most finished tennis stars that the United States has produced in years. Her name in the national championship at Forest Hills last September was of the type that caused experts to pick her as the one likely to beat Suzanne Lenglen, the French queen.

The California girl has everything that goes to make a champion. She has power, speed, a natural ability and a fast working brain.

Mrs. George Whitman is a consistent player. Her long experience has made her a past master in strategy. There are few men at the game who have a more expert knowledge of the sport than this former Helen Wills.

Her generalship should prove a big asset to the American team. It is likely that she will be named captain of the squad. Her judgement is held in high esteem by all court fans and experts.

YANKEE GIRL TENNIS STARS FOR OLYMPICS

Miss Helen Wills, Miss Lenglen, and Miss Eleanor Goss, the New York girl who has blazed a trail through tennis ranks during the past few seasons, are the favorites to be selected.

Speculation is running high as to which stars will be selected to represent America on the first American tour of women's tennis. The tour will travel across the Atlantic to meet the best of the world in the Olympic games.

Miss Helen Wills, the national titleholder, and Miss Lenglen, the world champion, are the favorites to be selected.

Miss Eleanor Goss, the New York girl who has blazed a trail through tennis ranks during the past few seasons, is said to be the choice of the committee for the third member of the team.

Just who the fourth star will be only the future can tell.

Mrs. Marion Zindlerstein Ziegler is being talked about as the one likely to draw the fourth assignment.

BRACES BATTLE THE CHIN SOX TODAY

By NICK FAITLEY

Winter Haven, Fla., March 24.—The Braves open their very busy week in the hotel today when they will fight the White Sox, who were defeated the other day in St. Petersburg, 4 to 0.

Our Braves play the Dodgers here, Wednesday, and at Clearwater tomorrow, are due on Wednesday, Tuesday, at Pittsburgh the next afternoon, the Cardinals on Friday and the Giants on Saturday.

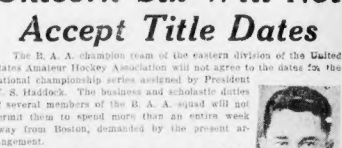

That is quite an ambitious program, but as the regular climate is in the part of the world once more, today's kick must.

There's always some something on a ball club if it doesn't storm, the diamond horses spent about over work if it rains they crash about hanging around hotels. It's natural. We shall say for the present Braves, though, that they're a mighty jolly and well-mannered group of men and look about as good as a new like a college squad than a flock of hard-boiled big leaguers.

Getting back to the baseball of it, both Manager Barrett and first baseman Burroughs are expected to sum the daily battle. The victory over the Giants Saturday was the best of the two trips ever taken. It was, as probably has been noted, one of the best ball games ever seen in the South, a fit that would fit 2,000.

It was a very good day for the Braves, who were picked up by the new manager Barrett and first baseman Burroughs. The victory over the Giants Saturday was the best of the two trips ever taken. Unicorn Six Will Not Accept Title Dates

The B. A. A. champion team of the eastern division of the United States Amateur Hockey Association will not agree to the date 5th, the national championship series assigned by President W. S. Haddock.

The dates assigned for the games to be played either in Cleveland or Pittsburgh are April 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, and 11.

Thirty regular members of the team and the same number of substitutes will be unable to be away from home the length of time demanded by the schedule and Tom Kennedy, manager of the team, positively refuses to consider the present arrangement, even although it will result that the title will go over to the western team which has been waiting for a title since 1910.

Manager Kennedy will agree to the dates, Our boys must be at school and at business, and when they are willing to be away a reasonable length of time, the present arrangement, even although it will result that the title will go over to the western team which has been waiting for a title since 1910.

President Haddock is in the mood that has been taken by the best management will be adequate, as he did when St. Paul, Minn., was victorious concerning the original dates assigned for the championship series in West at St. Paul, Cleveland and Pittsburgh.

There are several reasons why the Unicorn Six have refused to accept the dates. The team is made up of thirty regular members and the same number of substitutes. They are unable to be away from home for the length of time demanded by the schedule. Manager Kennedy positively refuses to consider the present arrangement, even although it will result that the title will go over to the western team which has been waiting for a title since 1910.

SECOND DEATH IN ROXBURY GAS CASE

Mrs. Caroline Kuo, thirty years old, who four days ago was overcome by gas at her home, No. 217 Whitney street, Roxbury, is dead at the City Hospital.

Two children, Ludwig, three years old, and Neale, one year old, are at the hospital, but physicians are confident of their recovery.

JOINT-EASE For Stiff, Swollen Joints

Rheumatic or Otherwise

Says: "When Joint-Ease Gets Out in-Joint Agony Gets Out."

It was a high-class pharmacist who saw prescription after prescription full to help hundreds of his customers to get rid of rheumatic swellings and stiff inflamed joints. And it was this same man who asserted that a remedy could and would be compounded that would make cranks, swollen, tormented joints work with just as much smoothness as they ever did.

Now this prescription, rightly named Joint-Ease, after being tested successfully on many delicate cases, is offered through progressive pharmacies to the millions of people who suffer from ailing joints that need soothing up.

Swollen, twinges, inflamed, stiff, pain-laden joints are usually caused by rheumatism, but whatever the cause Joint-Ease weakens it, through skin and flesh and gets right in and corrects the trouble at its source.

Remember Joint-Ease is for ailments of the joints, whether it be the neck, knee, hip, elbow, shoulder, spine or finger, and when you rub it on, you may expect speedy and satisfying results.

It is now on sale at drug stores everywhere for 50 cents a bottle.

$1,500,000 Masterpiece "Under the Red Robe" Coming to Park Theatre

"Under the Red Robe," Cosmopolitan's million and a half dollar film masterpiece from Stanley Weisberg's hand of the same title, comes to the Park Theatre next Monday.

"Under the Red Robe" is a thrilling picture of the vanished age, brought to life superbly by direction and a cast which the Cosmopolitan Corporation spared no cost in securing.

Robert B. Mantell, that veteran of the speaking stage, impersonates Cardinal Richelieu, a character he has striven to immortalize. John Charles Thomas, the noted tenor, makes his screen debut as Gil de Beaulieu and Almas Rubens is seen in the role of Beron.

The picture should carry a great appeal to students of history, for it is historically accurate in every detail. Many of the scenes are transcribed from the historical canvases of Rubens and others of the old masters in a manner that leaves the art critic amazed. In addition there is a wealth of scenic beauty, which only the motion picture as medium can best.

The sets constructed for the filming of "Under the Red Robe" are of fantastic proportions, said to be the largest sets ever used in the East and by far the most beautiful ever used in a period picture.

The three featured players are supported by a large cast. Included among them are: Otto Kruger, Rose Cochran, Ian McLaren, Mary McLaren, William H. Powell.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no secret of having a healthy complexion—dark rings under your eyes—fading—yellow—look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle—Your doctor will tell you nine-tenths of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, a well known system in old, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the gentlest of all sickness cures, in their action of always effective. They bring about that natural bloom which all should enjoy by looking up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. Use and be well.

OSCAR SHAW

Leading actor in "Great White Way," who appears in person at Park Theatre today.

SHAW TO GREET PATRONS OF 'WHITE WAY'

Star of Big Film Drama Will Personally Appear at Four Matinees

Oscar Shaw, leading comedian in musical comedy, who comes to appear in the Edimanch attraction "One Kiss," which opens at the Central Theatre tonight, will perform double service to the public by appearing in person at the Park Theatre this afternoon, tomorrow, Tuesday and Friday matinees, during the showings of "The Great White Way."

In this film he is pictured in the leading role of the noteworthy comedian of it, W. W. W. story.

This Cosmopolitan picture serves as Mr. Shaw's debut on the silver screen, and the success he has won through his really impressive work would indicate that the studio will see with the stage in projecting him to the public eye.

However, the screen will have to bid high because Mr. Shaw is reported to be the highest salaried leading star in musical comedy. He will appear during the intermission of the picture showings on the afternoon engagements.

FILM DEPICTS OLDER DAYS IN SOUTH

"The Fighting Coward" at Fenway One of the Best Movies of the Year

For those who thought that in "The Covered Wagon" Janice Cruse had reached the zenith of his powers, the film at the Fenway this week, "The Fighting Coward" gives food for thought.

The eminent director has taken South American history of the old time South, "Mandala," and made it into a picture which even the most sceptical must concede to be one of the best of the year.

The story concerns itself with the regeneration of Tom Rutherford, a quiet, ineffective youth, who finds himself only out of place in the swarming, quiresome South of his day.

When the Patterson, typical feudal "McLennan," humiliates him before his betrothed, he does not fight, and so incenses his traditional loving father that he is driven from home.

He drifts up the river and enters a gambling hall, mistaking it for a restaurant. Here he sees two men killed in a brawl.

Tired of being humiliated by everyone because he dares to fight, he resolves to change, and "Blakely," a "notorious" killer, happens to insult the boy just when he has reached the breaking point.

In the road fight which follows, the infatuated killer is slain by the man, establishes his reputation on the river, and thereafter adopts the pseudonym of "The Notorious Gun-Slinger."

After at every trick of fighting, he returns innocent to Magnolia, after terrorizing and mortifying the men who had made his boyhood un-learnable, he finds Lucy, his youthful confidante, grown into a beautiful woman, and it does not take them long to find out that they were made for each other. Furthermore, the surrounding hill is the best in months, every item from "Bjornstjerne" to the comic is excellent.

Blue-jay Try the New Way Of teeth cleaning

The way millions now employ

This is to urge you, once again, to try the new way of teeth cleaning. You see the results now whenever you look in whiter, cleaner, safer teeth.

The use has now spread the world over. Millions of careful people, in every clime, enjoy its benefits. Those good results, belong to you and yours. Learn how much they mean.

The war on film

Film is the teeth's great enemy—that vicious film you feel. No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats it, so much of it clings and stays. Soon it becomes discolored, then forms dingy coats. That is why teeth lose their pearly lustre.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

So tooth troubles constantly increased—became almost universal—under old ways of tooth brushing.

Now you have pulled around your throat, often think they have heart trouble, appendicitis or kidney trouble, but it's often gas that causes distress. Get Pepsinolic at your drugist if you want immediate relief.

'BOMB' FOUND UNDER THEIR HOME

OVER UNEXPLODED SHELL

Upper picture shows Mrs. Muriel A. Goudas and daughter, Grace, who occupy lower part of house at No. 81 Columbia road, Dorchester, immediately over place where artillery shell bomb was discovered. Lower right, Michael L. Eisenstein who discovered device after his appearance had scared away three young men. At lower left, shell which is being examined by State chemist.

Michael L. Eisenstein of No. 81 Columbia road, Dorchester, looked out of his window in time to catch sight of three young men engaged in what the police believe was an attempt to blow up the house. At Eisenstein's approach, the young men fled. Eisenstein then looked about and found a screw driver and a foot long unexploded light artillery shell, weighing twelve pounds, inside the foundation of the house. Eisenstein then ran to Columbia road until he met Sergeant James Gallagher and Michael Hurley and Patrolman George Smith. He related his story to the police and the

FATE OF 11 GIRLS IN DOUBT

Investigators Call in N. Y. Governor to Probe Disappearances From Home

New York, March 24.—Governor Alfred E. Smith has been asked to appoint a special prosecutor to clear up the mystery surrounding the fate of Lillian White and ten other girls who, one after another, have disappeared from the Letchworth Village Home.

This request has been made by Dr. Anna W. Hochfelder, assistant corporation counsel. Dr. Hochfelder and Captain Grant Williams, former head of the Missing Persons bureau, insist that the bones of a skeleton found in the recesses of a cave on Cheesecake mountain were those of the White girl, and further that they know her murderer and can produce evidence to convict him.

Both Captain Williams and Dr. Hochfelder said that District Attorney Morley L. Lewin told them it would cost $10,000 to indict the former employee of the institution for the murder of the White girl and $10,000 more to try him.

Captain Williams also asserted that the prosecutor had called off without success detectives working on the case.

INTEREST REVIVED

The disappearance on March 15 of Mary Williams, seventeen, and her sister, Lillian, who was then fifteen, had revived interest in the case which the White girl disappeared. The institution, under circumstances, revived interest in the case which the White girl disappeared. The institution, under circumstances, revived interest in the case which the White girl disappeared.

Furthermore, it developed that the bones belonging to the skeleton identified by Captain Williams as that of the slain girl had been buried in the cemetery of Mount Pleasant, and that District Attorney Lewin and other authorities were seeking to locate the skull which Captain Williams reconstructed into the face of the White girl.

Informing of the prosecution interest in the skull which recently was exhibited at the International Police Chiefs' convention here, Captain Williams declared:

"If he wants that skull, let him arrest the murderer and order the case to trial. We shall produce it."

GIRL MURDERED, HE SAYS

"We have evidence which will show the White girl was murdered and who her murderer is. If Mr. Lewin is so interested in the skull, why doesn't he explain why he dismissed the detective and why he hampered the investigation?"

Mr. Williams said that the burial of the skeleton in Potter's field had been accomplished in order to check an application for the remains made in court.

Mr. Williams, who with Mr. Mary Hamilton, policewoman, worked on the case, said she had missed the Governor. Mr. Miller, a special deputy attorney-general in order to bring the man who accuses Governor Smith has shown a more sympathetic attitude toward releasing the case to a thorough investigation by a special prosecutor.

RICH U. S. PAYS P.O. EMPLOYEES PITTANCE

Congress Still Considers Bill Raising Pay $600 a Year

It seems incredible that the United States of America, richest nation of the world, would pay its letter carriers only $4.92 a day.

This is the salary paid Carrier Norman L. Ward and Edward Sam, who have supported themselves, his wife and his children, according to American standards on this comparative pitance.

Every day, at 5:30 a. m., Letter Carrier Ward leaves his home at No. 1 Tremont street, Charleston, for his work in Wallington. Every week he pays out about $3 in car and train fare. When asked why he lives so far away from his work, he replies that the rents are cheaper in Charleston.

Mr. Ward's case is typical with that of hundreds of other letter carriers all over the country. The salaries paid to these men are totally inadequate for the importance of the duties performed, and are not sufficient to enable them to live in accordance with their needs.

They have asked Congress to pass a bill raising their salaries from $1,800 to $2,400 a year. Congress should no longer deny the letter carriers an increase in their salaries that will be sufficient to permit a decent maintenance of the letter carrier and his family against sickness and disability.

REFUSES JUNE EVANS HANNA CLAIM TRIAL

White Plains, N. Y., March 24.—The appellate division of the Supreme Court today refused four demands handed down by surrogate Slater, denying to Miss June Evans, an actress, a jury trial of her claim against the executors of the estate of Dan H. Hanna, Cleveland publisher and son of Mark Hanna.

Miss Evans alleged that Hanna agreed to pay her $1,000 monthly for as long as she lived in return for her agreement not to marry him.

Roxbury Well Guarded From Quacks by Tufts

This is the fourteenth of a series of articles which is a sequel to this newspaper's investigation of "quack" medicine in Greater Boston.

If you are not acquainted with reputable physicians and wish to make sure of obtaining expert advice and fair dealing, the service will show you how to avoid quacks by patronizing Boston's health centers, the best in the country.

Residents of the Roxbury Crossing section of Boston are protected from the menace of the quack medical practitioner by the Roxbury Hospital and Dispensary, No. 87 Vernon Street, Roxbury.

This institution is conducted by the medical staff of Tufts College. It maintains a resident staff of twenty-five physicians and surgeons, a complete staff of thirty-five, and an efficient corps of nurses.

General medical and surgical diseases are treated, but no obstetrical, contagious or eye cases are accepted. There are fifty beds in this hospital, and it conducts a large surgical department.

FREE TO WORKY CASES

Ward rates are $2 a day, and private rooms, $5.

The outpatient fee is 25 cents a visit for consultation and $5 cents for children.

If patients are unable to pay the charges, the rates are reduced according to the patient's ability to pay. In worthy cases, treatment is given free.

It was stated at the hospital that the patients were served at the clinics during 1923, and 400 bed patients were cared for.

It is said that no finer dental clinic is to be found anywhere in the country than the one in which a whole floor of this building is devoted.

DISEASE PREVENTION

The Roxbury Hospital also specializes in orthopedic cases, and in the prevention of disease. Education in disease prevention is the key to health. Here, such training may be obtained at the daily clinics for a nominal sum, or without charge.

There is no need of remaining in possession of so vital a matter if unable to pay for the services of a private physician.

The daily outpatient clinics open from 9 a. m. to 12 p. m.: Orthopedic, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday; General, Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday; Eye, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday; Women's Diseases, Monday, Wednesday and Saturday.

GASOLINE PROBE IN DAY STATE

Commission Told How Standard Dealers Have Kept the Cost Up

Massachusetts started an oil investigation of its own today. It was opened by the Commission on the Economics of Life at a hearing in the State House and disclosed among other things, that the Standard Oil Company charges some of its dealers 15 cents a gallon for gasoline, while others are charged 20 cents for the same product.

The commission was also told that the reason gasoline in Massachusetts jumped 32 per cent during the month of January, 1924, was due to a falling off in the reserve supplies and the increase in the price of crude oil from 145 to 20 cents a gallon, which took place during the month.

TOLD BY MANAGER

The information about the Standard Oil Company was told by Joseph A. Smith, New England manager for the Standard Oil Company, who admitted that all retail dealers were selling gasoline in New England for 25 cents a gallon, despite the fact that the Standard furnished some dealers with that rate, while others were charged 20 cents for the same product.

The commission is conducting the probe at the request of the Legislature, which passed a resolution authorizing the probe. This resolution followed the action of the court in deciding that gasoline is a necessity of life.

Chairman Eugene C. Hoffman of the commission advised at the opening session that the entire gasoline situation in New England seemed to be shrouded in mystery and confusion.

SAY HOSPITALS CATER TO RICH PATIENTS

Brigham Institutions Being Investigated by City Law Department

The Robert B. Brigham Hospital of Roxbury is under investigation by the city law department on charges that the institution catered to the rich and thus is a public nuisance.

The case against the Robert B. Brigham Hospital has already been reported and will be submitted to Attorney General Jay R. Boston in the near future.

According to the provisions of the will of Robert B. Brigham, the more than $2,000,000 he left was for the purpose of maintaining an institution for the care and support and medical and surgical treatment of those citizens of Boston who are without necessary means of support.

It was further charged that the hospital is run for the benefit of the rich, for the most part, and amounts to a vast and costly waste of money.

CHICKEN WITH SWEET ALMONDS

For eight persons choose a chicken of 3 1/2 pounds. Clean thoroughly and cut into six pieces. Garnish bottom of buttered baking pan with remainder of carrots and onion. Add a bouquet of seasoning, a small piece of ginger root and a little black pepper. Arrange pieces of chicken upon this and cover with water or white bouillon; on top of this 1 quart of good olive oil. Start to boil over a good fire, skim off and then cover the chicken and let it simmer slowly on back of stove or in oven. During the cooking remove skin from a pound of almonds. Wash with cold water and dry. When the chicken is 3/4 done remove it to a separate casserole. Put in almonds and finish cooking. Serve on very sautéer surrounded by vegetables and nuts.

Every New England housewife has a chance to win the $5 prize awarded each Monday.

Mash cereal until free from lumps, add well beaten egg and milk. Stir dry ingredients together and add to liquid. When well blended stir in sugar and fat. Do not griddle. Serve with maple syrup.

A WIFE'S MEDITATIONS

BY HELEN ROWLAND

VERILY, verily, my Daughter, not ALL the Daughters are deal, neither are all the Prince Charming to be found in the fairytale books.

For, pseud-venture, to Lancelot dunneth his armor and go forth to do battle for his Father. But in that climb into a bulled shield and his glad clothes, Helen Rowland and walketh seven leagues through the storm and travesth the "Gla" in order to dance with thee, is no less valiant.

No Sir Walter Raleigh flingeth down his cloak, that thy feet may tread thereon. But he that crawleth beneath thy motor-car and underneath a horse and then through a hat afternoon with the entire thread is no less chivalrous.

No daring swish coming riding over the sands to bear thee away to his tent. But he that helpeth thee into a taxicab, and bareth thee all the way from Broadway to Lenoxhurst.

Flashing at the taximeter, is braver by far than ANY chieftain.

No Sir Francis Bampton and the lions to rescue thy slave, but a lady and the husband and the butcher and the insurance salesman for thy sake is with within the HERO'S class.

No knight's errand to lay down his life for thee, pseud-venture. But any bachelor that layeth down his freedom and his bachelor comforts and the flattery and adoration of all other women that he may tie himself upon one woman for life, is a hero, today, yesterday—no forever!

Verily if thy Beloved faileth thee not in these things, thou mayest with safety start thine horse chest and ride the orange blossom.

For the proof of True Love is no longer a man's desire to do that which is picturesque, but his mad impulse to do that which is hard and real and practical.

And, now as always, love is a man's desire which transformeth him from whatever he may be into a martyr, an angel and a prey of misadventure.

HINTS ABOUT YOUR BEAUTY

HOW TO ACQUIRE BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION

By Maria Jertiza
Famous Prima Donna of the Metropolitan Opera and one of the Most Beautiful Women of the Day
JUDGING by letters I receive from women who long for a beautiful complexion, I might conclude that a lovely skin is almost difficult to attain and much more difficult to retain. As a matter of fact, we come into the world with rose-lip complexion and a delicately lovely complexion is natural and normal. It is the sign of perfect health, especially skin health. Given rather Nature a fair skin and there is no reason why you should not have the exquisitely clear, fine skin for which you sigh.

The great requisite for skin beauty is cleanliness—cleanliness within and without.

By internal cleanliness I mean perfect elimination of waste from the system, keeping the blood clear and preventing overtaxing of the pores and glands of the skin.

Drink an abundance of water. This will keep your system washed out. Drink milk and lemonade, for they contain mineral elements that are cleansing. But fresh fruit and fresh vegetables for the same reason. Exercise to keep your blood in healthy circulation and induce the perspiration that carries off waste through the pores of the skin.

A bath a day is essential to cleanliness, and will tend to beautify not only the skin of your face but your face as well. It will wash away all impurities and clean the pores so that they can function freely.

Enlarged pores are the result of those delicate parts having more dirt and oil to carry out of the system. When they are clogged, they are not so free to do so. They are not so free to do so. They are not so free to do so.

Only if your face is quite dry will you benefit by washing it with soap and water. Otherwise soap will do more harm than good. Wash with a pure oil cream, will remove from the face more dirt than soap and water, and they are less drying.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. F. X. Mahoney

Modern Health Commissioner. With these scientific findings it has been abandoned by most scientists as being unworkable. It is now possible after thorough investigation, to definitely classify all gastro-intestinal conditions suspected to have been caused by infected food.

In a reported case, an evidence bearing upon the food is studied first from an epidemiological standpoint. Secondly, the symptoms of the individual or persons made ill are then studied and classified as to being due either to the group of organisms known as the paratyphoid or the enteric, or to the more dangerous B. botulinus.

The food examined for the purpose of finding these organisms present, as is likewise the patient. Through bacteriological tests and animal experimentation in the laboratory, we are able to determine the existence of these very definite and known organisms.

All suspected food is likewise examined. In the case of canned goods the examination must necessarily be a thorough one, in that external evidence may necessarily be indicative of the presence of botulin toxin among a suspected lot of canned goods.

Proper diagnosis is very essential, in that some of these cases may be due to the presence of a so-called "carrier," one who harbors germs and is able to distribute them freely without showing any of the clinical symptoms.

In the case of botulinus, there is a serious type of food infection, there is a specific antitoxin which it is necessary to administer early in the disease.

The natural rule to adopt if food looks, smells, or tastes unusual, is not to eat it.

Chances are that you can be detoxified by fasting for thirty minutes at 220 degrees F.

FADS OF FASHION

PROPHESYING a gay future for the embroidered skirt jersey sweater, fashion authorities forecast it as the "mode de resistance" of the Summer season wardrobe. To suitably complete the costume one requires a fitted, embroidered skirt to match and a pointed cape de chine skirt with a one-inch border that matches either the color of the sweater or of the embroidery.

The Princess of society worn to consist of silk fringe for the day-time and broad or unadorned catch for evening. The sweater fringe, in the most delicate pattern, is especially lovely in group-gait dance frocks of the same or harmonizing shades.

A Father Abroad Fad is being followed by many women who are fashion extremists. They are wearing tipped cigarette cases made up in colors to match their various frocks. These are known as the Desaville cigarettes, as they are supposed to have originated at that continental resort.

Bradsford New Burden, that of forming a collapsible sport hat. In fashion style with a high-collared frontpiece, this novel hat is created entirely of brilliant colored, lustrous, large, wooden beads, and has a long, level tasseled at the left side.

Severely Smart Suits of black and white of navy with black, with white hairline stripes, or black rep. The narrow reverse that runs down the collar and the turned-back cuffs with silk belt are of white plus.

A touch of color is introduced into the otherwise all-white headed gown. Although white is still the rage, it is being relieved by a dash of color, the most effective in the dance frocks being headed in soft colors or in black.

PARIS SENDS NEW IDEAS

Paris, France—A fetching little girl's frock is sketched at right. It is made of dull green wool twill with a shallow rolling collar and cut gyle collar. Narrow bands of colored braid in the dull tones of old tapestry make a lovely trimming and edge the deep pockets at each side of the frock.

Brilliant red gazarine makes the little costume on the center figure of the group. Over a frock of the material is worn an "almost-as-long" coat trimmed with strips of gaily colored wool braid, woven in a bold peasant design. The buttons are covered with tiny beads in the same bright tones and worked in a similar pattern. A small hat of red gazarine is trimmed with the colored braid.

The quaint little outfit on the first figure is made entirely of taupe velvet. The coat has an unusual trimming in the shape of up-turning bias bands of velvet. These simulate a deep shawl-collar and border the rounding edge of the jacket. The velvet bonnet is embroidered at the back, and has a white lace trim at the front.

about Jonathan
A young man of the name of Jonathan was the son of a well-to-do family in Boston. He was a handsome, well-educated young man, and was very popular with the girls of his acquaintance. He was, however, a very blunt and honest young man, and his bluntness often caused him to be misunderstood.
